Dr Mark Durie is visiting NZ to provide some up-to-date insights into Islam. He is a theologian, human rights activist, Anglican pastor, a Shillman-Ginsburg Writing Fellow at the Middle East Forum, and Adjunct Research Fellow of the Centre for the Study of Islam and Other Faiths at Melbourne School of Theology.

We are all aware at the quite frightening inroads radical Islam is making in the Western World. Here are a few of the key questions of concern to many New Zealanders that Mark will address in the meeting:

- What does the word Islam mean and what is its significance?
- Is ISIS (IS or ISL) Islamic or something else?
- Is the spread of Islam into New Zealand (and many nations of the world) a threat to our current laws on Freedom of Religion and Freedom of Speech?
- Is Islam intolerant to ALL other religious beliefs?
- Are many Muslims coming to Christian faith? Where? How many?
- And your questions.

Mark is regarded as one of a few Western experts in the world on this topic. You can learn more about him at www.markdurie.com.
